Terracotta

NATURALLY SUSTAINABLE PU:RE

Renewable raw materials

100% peat-free and completely plantbased. CLASSIC coir pellets and Pop UP substrate are made from coconut fibre and gently compressed.

Recycling

All indoor propagators and greenhouses are 100% recyclable and can be disposed of via the usual recycling systems and recycling centres.

FSC® certification

In order to protect the natural environment of our forests, our wooden products and many of our packagings are FSC-certified. A symbol for responsible forest management.

PEFC certification

Our CLASSIC Pots are made of biodegradable cellulose and have been awarded with the PEFC label.

Dear Romberg friends,

When your customers stroll through your garden center or specialty store today, they are looking for more than just functional accessories – they are seeking products with soul, quality, and character. This is exactly where our mission begins: we create ranges that capture trends, speak to desires, and convince through sustainability and design. For you, this means an assortment for seed starting products that meets the needs of your target groups precisely – compelling in function, form, and sales performance.

This year, we are especially excited to introduce our new brand category PU:Re by Romberg. With PU:Re, you offer your customers a sustainable product line that combines authentic materials, honest craftsmanship, and timeless design – perfect for a conscious purchasing decision at the point of sale.

SUSTAINABLE PRODUCTS

All articles are discontinued. Delivery while stocks last.

The transformation from waste to new high-quality raw material is based on modern technology.

Our Green Plastic enables circular solutions for a cleaner environment.

REDUCING LOSS OF VALUABLE RESOURCES

A great number of discarded and obsolete fishing gears, ropes and trawls are not added to the recycling economy.

This plastic litter escapes circularity routes mainly as a consequence of poor waste management and is estimated today to be approx. 1% of the total plastic waste globally.

Made from Maritime Plastic <sup>2</sup>

The Green Edition of selected Romberg products stands for sustainable manufacturing from recycled maritime industry plastics and thus actively contributes to environmental protection and cleaning-up the ecosystem.
